WHY LEARN TO RIDE THE BUS?

Mountain Line is a cost effective way to get you where you need to go and promotes greater independence on a more flexible schedule with increased socialization.

ACCESSIBILITY AND FLEXIBILITY

For those who have used Mountain Lift paratransit services, travel training is the ideal way to transition into using the more affordable fixed route buses for some trips. All Mountain Line buses are fully accessible with kneeling capabilities, low floor, and ramp access to accommodate mobility devices. Mountain Line's regularly scheduled service gives you the freedom to plan trips at your convenience.

TRAVEL TRAINING WILL TEACH YOU HOW TO NAVIGATE MOUNTAIN LINE TO:

- go to the movies
- go to the mall
- go to medical appointments
- run errands
- recreational activities
- leave your car at home and ride the bus to work
- get to and from school on your own schedule
- travel to work
- go shopping

MOUNTAIN LINE TRAVEL TRAINING

RIDE WITH CONFIDENCE

Getting You Where You Want to Go

WHAT IS TRAVEL TRAINING?

Free personalized training for individuals or groups wanting to learn how to navigate the Mountain Line fixed route bus system.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

Anyone unfamiliar with public transit and riding Mountain Line buses – first-time riders, experienced riders wanting to learn new routes, children and teens commuting to and from school, older adults, persons with disabilities, and those new to Flagstaff.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Travel training can be conducted for groups or individuals, and can be tailored to fit different schedules and needs. The travel trainer will use a combination of class time and hands-on instruction, which can be done at the Mountain Line Headquarters or off-site.
